

Addressing the Genuine Student Criterion

1. Please provide details of your current circumstances, including ties to family, community, employment and economic circumstances, and address any academic or professional gap of more than six months.
 - Briefly introduce yourself and your current situation
 - Explain your family situation, including their economic status
 - Include incentives to return such as assets, family business, land etc.

My name is XXX, born on XXX, from XXX, Nepal. My father, XXX, supports our family through his pension, salary, and land lease, while my mother, XXX, runs the XXX. Their combined annual income is XXX, with property valued at XXX, and they have secured an educational loan of XXX, from XXX to support my studies. Inspired by watching my mother manage her business, I developed a strong interest in business from a young age. This passion led me to choose management in Grade 12 and now pursue it as my career. Observing the challenges she faced motivated me to explore the field deeply. After thorough research, I chose the Bachelor of Business at the XXX, known for its practical approach and industry relevance. I aim to seize global opportunities and build a successful future in business.

2. Explain why you are not studying this course in your home country
 - Why Australia/ XXX over other options
 - Demonstrate your understanding of the course
 - Demonstrate your understanding of living in Australia (costs, etc.)
 - Provide study and employment history and explain how your chosen course relates/builds on this

Studying and living in Australia will give me a multicultural experience, help me see different points of view, and improve my English in a native-speaking environment. I chose the XXX because of its strong reputation and modern teaching style. XXX practical approach supports students in balancing study, work, and personal life. I decided to major in Human Resource Management because I enjoy working with people and want to create a positive and productive work environment. Watching my mother manage her staff in her business inspired me to learn how to lead and support teams. XXX also matches my skills in communication and problem-solving, and I believe it will help me grow and support our family business in the future. I chose XXX because of its good transport options and housing facilities. I plan to stay in a shared house or homestay first and have budgeted for accommodation close to campus.

3. Detail how this course will assist you to achieve your goals/give you advantages in the job market.
 - Explain your career goal – job type, companies/organizations you aim to work for, expected salary (based on research)
 - Demonstrate how you expect to get a return on your investment (show costings, time to recover)

My Bachelor of Business majoring in HRM will give me skills in team management, communication, and workplace relations. I am passionate about working with people and want to become an HR officer in Nepal. I aim to work in well-known organizations like XXX, XXX XXX, XXX, or XXX. In Nepal, HR officers earn around NPR 30,000–60,000 per month depending on experience. With a foreign degree and skills gained through Post-Study Work (PSW), I can earn a higher salary.

The total cost of my education, including tuition and living expenses, will be around AUD 120,000. After completing my studies, I plan to work during PSW to gain experience and earn some money. Once I return to Nepal, I believe I can recover the investment within 5–6 years. The cost of living in Nepal is lower, so I will be able to save more. This course will prepare me well to reach my career goals and succeed in the job market.

4. Please provide any other relevant information that demonstrates that you are a genuine student. For more information, please refer to Ministerial Direction No. 106

International graduates with global exposure and practical skills are highly valued by employers in Nepal. I plan to use this advantage when I return home. As the only child in my family, I share a strong bond with my parents and feel a deep sense of responsibility to support them. We have family assets and a running business, which I aim to help, manage and grow after completing my studies. My goal is not only to build a stable career in Nepal but also to contribute to the development of the business sector through what I learn abroad. I am currently single and plan to settle in Nepal and start a family after my education. The job market in Nepal for skilled HR professionals with international degrees is growing, which gives me confidence in my career path. I have not traveled to Australia or any other country before, and this will be my first international study experience.
