

Addressing the Genuine Student Criterion

1. Please provide details of your current circumstances, including ties to family, community, employment and economic circumstances, and address any academic or professional gap of more than six months.
 - Briefly introduce yourself and your current situation
 - Explain your family situation, including their economic status
 - Include incentives to return such as assets, family business, land etc.

My name is XXX, born on XXX in XXX, Nepal. I come from a close-knit joint family. My father, XXX, owns XXX and my mother, XXX, supports our household. My uncle, XXX, and aunt, XXX, live with us and also support me. Our family earns XXX annually from land lease and business, owns immovable properties, and has taken an education loan of XXX from XXX for my studies. I completed PCL Dental Science (Dental Hygiene) in 2023 and then worked as an Assistant Technician in the Dental Department at the XXX. This role gave me valuable clinical exposure and the chance to work closely with patients from diverse backgrounds, helping me grow personally and professionally. I am now pursuing a Bachelor of Food Science and Nutrition at XXX.

2. Explain why you are not studying this course in your home country
 - Why Australia/ XXX over other options
 - Demonstrate your understanding of the course
 - Demonstrate your understanding of living in Australia (costs, etc.)
 - Provide study and employment history and explain how your chosen course relates/builds on this

I compared Australia with the USA, UK, and Canada, but chose Australia for its affordable tuition, practical learning, safety, and welcoming culture. I explored food science programs at XXX, XXX, and XXX, and selected XXX for its strong industry links, modern labs, and supportive learning environment. After completing my PCL in Dental Science and working as an Assistant Technician at the CMC, I realized I wanted to focus more on preventive health and community wellbeing. Bachelor of Food Science and Nutrition will equip me with knowledge in food chemistry, microbiology, safety, product development, and nutritional health. I am especially interested in its hands-on laboratory work, research projects, and industry placements, which are not available in Nepal's limited programs. I will live in shared housing near university XXX, I am searching from different websites, and will finalize the accommodation after the visa decision.

3. Detail how this course will assist you to achieve your goals/give you advantages in the job market.
 - Explain your career goal – job type, companies/organizations you aim to work for, expected salary (based on research)
 - Demonstrate how you expect to get a return on your investment (show costings, time to recover)

This course develops skills in food chemistry, microbiology, product development, quality control, and nutrition—highly valued in Nepal’s food industry. Career options include food technologist, nutrition consultant, quality assurance officer, and product development specialist. I aim to be a food technologist, combining science and innovation to create safe, nutritious foods that improve public health. I plan to work in Nepal’s food manufacturing sector or with XXX like XXX. Food technologists in Nepal earn XXX XXX, with strong growth potential. This career will let me advance food safety and nutrition in my community. Long-term, I aspire to start a nutrition-focused food enterprise, offering safe, affordable, nutrient-rich products, running awareness campaigns, and partnering with schools to reduce malnutrition. An international qualification will also support consulting roles in neighboring countries and help me recover my education investment within 5–6 years.

4. Please provide any other relevant information that demonstrates that you are a genuine student. For more information, please refer to Ministerial Direction No. 106

I have no prior immigration history, including visa applications, refusals, cancellations, deportations, or asylum claims in Australia or any other country. This is my first time studying abroad, and I am fully committed to complying with all visa conditions, including returning home after completing my studies. I do not have any relatives in Australia, and I will independently arrange my accommodation and living expenses. My strong ties to my family, community, and future career goals in Nepal demonstrate my genuine intention to study and return home upon completion.
